"The Advertiser, as the leading Republican paper of Hawaii." These few words are published in the editorial columns of the Advertiser, not as a news item, which would be the proper place, but as an assumption which the official organ hopes to jam down the throat of whatever delegates it may hope to browbeat. "The Advertiser, a Republican paper," excuse these smiles.

HARMONIOUS CONVENTION.

The opening session of the Republican Territorial convention has been characterized by a cordial spirit of united and harmonious action highly gratifying to every delegation, and we believe acceptable to the Republicans whom they represent.

The wheels of organization are running so smoothly and with such absolute freedom from the cantankerous friction which disgruntled politicians would like to see forced upon the party, that the convention is decidedly uninteresting to Democratic sympathizers who thought to see the convention embroiled in a row similar to that forced upon the Honolulu mass meeting. The discussion has been temperate and the proceedings marked with dignity if not despatch. Ample opportunity has been allowed for full consideration of every detail, there have been no underhand machine tactics from any source, no slate made its appearance to give the calamity howlers of the clique represented by the Advertiser an opportunity to indulge in their favorite pastime of knifing the party.

The only contest of the morning on the temporary chairmanship arose from a difference of opinion as to the disposition of honors between the islands of Hawaii and Oahu. Hon. J. L. Kaulukou representing the fifth district of Oahu carried the day with comparative ease, and was promptly given the unanimous support of the convention at the suggestion of Mr. Loebenstein.

Every detail of the proceedings points to the happy conclusion that factional dissension will not figure in the first Territorial convention of Hawaii's Republicans. The best interests of the party as expressed by the majority vote are close to the heart of every delegate. There has been and it is safe to say there will be no discussion, no break in the solid phalanx of Hawaiian-American Republican workers.

INTEREST IN BICYCLE RACE.

The wheelmen of the city are very much interested in the bicycle race that will lead off the 11th of June events as it has been whispered about that there will be very fast riders on the track. R. A. Dexter, G. A. Martin, John Sylva ("Manoa Wonder") and L. W. Merrill are now in training for the race. The only other man who has so far consented to ride is Ulrich of the Honolulu Iron Works who has repeatedly beaten Allan Jones, one of the fastest Coast riders.

Ulrich is one of the Bay City wheelmen and as such he rode in the great hundred mile relay races that created such an interest on the Coast.

It is probable that Ulrich, Dexter and Martin will be the scratch riders, while the other men will be given handicaps.

Cargo in Port.

The S. S. Czarina with 1100 tons of general merchandise consigned to W. G. Irwin & Co. came into port and hauled alongside the old Likelike wharf shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. She will haul alongside the Pacific Mail wharf when the Carlisle City finishes her work there.

The Czarina was to have left San Francisco on the 19th, the same day as the American Mail, but she was delayed until the next day. She has among her principal shipments, the following: 45,949 lbs sugar, 190 lbs tea, 31,295 lbs tobacco, 42 cts wheat, 5 bxs soap, 464 gals and 175 cts whiskey, 27 pkgs bicycles, 71 cts drugs, 460 gals gin, 14 cts electrical goods, 285 cts hardware, 46 pkgs machinery, 70 pkgs onions, 102 bales paper, 95 bbs salmon, 1 bbl wire, 1 roll leather, 6 cts hats and caps, 36 pkgs groceries and provisions, 63 bales dry goods, 29 cts gasoline, 114 cts canned goods, 4000 lbs beans, 4 cts boots and shoes, 100 cts cigarettes, 3 cts cigars, 15 drums distillate, 41 cts corn, 5 bbs rope, 30 bxs candles.

PHILIPPINE CABLE SURVEY.

Washington, May 19.—A new progress map of signal corps telegraph lines and cables in the Philippines just prepared under the direction of General Greeley is of especial interest at this time. It shows not only the system as it existed on March 31, but also projected military telegraph lines and cables now in process of construction.

Telegraphic communication between Manila and the South has been entirely dependent upon the English cable to the Visayan islands of Panay, Negros and Cebu. This cable which was broken by an earthquake on April 14 has not yet been repaired and the long interruption emphasizes the great military importance of the alternate telegraph route to the southern islands from Manila, which is now being constructed by the signal corps. The system recommended by General MacArthur has been fully approved by Secretary Root and will be pushed to rapid completion. A signal cable has already been laid from Cebu to Leyte and is being extended eastward to Samar and northward to Luzon via the island of Masbate. The military scheme is to have long stretches of cable, supplemented by a short land line as possible, so as to ensure the greatest possible freedom from hostile interference with communication. The military telegraphic system of Cebu, via Samar, as soon as the English cable is repaired, will afford General MacArthur two routes by which to reach garrisoned posts in the department of the Visayas. The extension southward looks to the connection by cables of the very important islands of Cebu, Leyte and Mindanao. The latter island will be reached by a combined system of land lines and cables, via cable from Negros and thus all garrisons on this great island will be in speedy communication. Ultimately, it is expected that Mindanao will be connected by cable via Zambanga, with Jolo and the latter with the Taul Taul group.

It is expected that the entire Visayan group will be connected by military lines before July and that the southern system of cables and land lines will be in operation by the end of the rainy season. The extent and magnitude of the telegraph and cable operations of the signal corps in the Philippines is hardly realized or known. There are 160 first class telegraph offices, manned by nearly 200 skilled operators, who handle by telegraph on the island of Luzon alone about 300,000 words each day. In addition, there are about 150 long distance telephone stations in operation in various parts of the archipelago.

The work of the signal corps when completed will stretch through nearly fourteen degrees of latitude. Six signal corps cables are now in operation and in all probability the cables and land lines which were nearly two thousand miles in length on March 31 will aggregate at present 2,500 miles. While branches are for strictly military purposes the most of these lines are permanent structures which will have a very important bearing in the development of the trade relations of the various islands.

At St. Louis College.

The St. Louis Literary Society will present "Marmaduke," an original Irish drama in a prologue and three acts, in the college music hall Thursday night, May 31. The college orchestra will play "Pearls of Gold" by Olivier and the choir will sing Zeitler's "See the Sun in Splendor Rising" before the curtain goes up. The following program of music will be rendered between acts:

Piano Duet—"Poet and Peasant"
Solo and Chorus—"The Black Supple Edged Letter"—Nevada
S. L. C. Lit. Socy.
Mandolin and Piano—"Zenda Waltzes"—Witmark
Waltz Song from Faust—"Light and Gay"—Gounod
S. L. C. Choir
March—"Wake up my Baby"—Ascher
S. L. C. Orchestra

The following will take part in the play: Emil A. Berndt, C. H. Rose, J. A. Shampson, B. Zablan, F. W. Weed, H. E. Murray, A. Rosa, M. Houghtaling, and Wm. Holona.

Grant Statue Unveiled.

Washington, May 19.—The statue of General Grant, presented by the Grand Army of the Republic to the Nation was unveiled in the great rotunda of the Capitol today and elaborate ceremonies commemorative of the event were held in the Hall of Representatives in the presence of a great crowd, which included the widow, daughter and descendants of the hero of Appomattox, hundreds of his comrades in arms, the officers and committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, and many distinguished in military, political and social circles.

The statue of the pre-eminent chief of the Union forces during the Civil War represents the contributions of thousands of his comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, none of whom was allowed to subscribe more than 15 cents, and is the result of a movement started shortly after General Grant's death in July, 1885. It is the work of Franklin Simmons, an American sculptor.

Jennie Alexander Gets $5000.

Jennie Alexander's case went to the jury shortly after six o'clock yesterday evening. After deliberating two hours the jury returned a verdict in her favor for $5,000 damages against the Canadian-Australian Steamship Co. This is the third case tried and won out of the twenty-nine brought by Hogan's minstrels for Captain Hemmings' refusal to take them as passengers in the steamer Miowera. Ernest Hogan, head of the troupe, got $250, Thymon $175 and now Jennie Alexander $5,000. Of course the verdicts were by different juries.

COMMANDER TODD RELIEVED.

New York, May 19.—A special to the Herald from Washington, says: Secretary Long has relieved Commander C. C. Todd from duty as hydrographer of the Navy and placed him under suspension.

This action is the direct result of efforts of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, supported by Mr. Cannon and other Representatives to take the work of ocean and lake surveys from the Navy. It is confidently expected by Commander Todd and his friends that when the facts receive further consideration he will be reinstated to duty and proper steps taken to relieve his record of the stigma now resting upon it.

Commander Todd has been zealously laboring to keep the survey work under the Navy, because he believes with his brother officers that the Navy and the merchant marine can obtain better charts and be more efficiently served than if the Coast and Geodetic Survey had the work in charge.

Arguments advanced by the Navy undoubtedly had much to do with the action of the Senate in restoring the provision appropriating $100,000 for carrying on the surveys under the Navy. This action was extremely distasteful to the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Representative Cannon wrote to Secretary Long asking him if the hydrographer had sent any letters to "individuals, corporations, boards of trade or chambers of commerce" in relation to the action of the House in connection with the ocean and lake surveys, Commander Todd responded that he had not.

Then Mr. Cannon asked for a copy of a letter sent to the Hydrographer offices. Commander Todd sent the communication, but it was shown to be addressed to "The Branch Hydrographic Office, New York," "Branch Hydrographic Office, Chicago," and so on, and Commander Todd's friends insist that he was entirely correct in stating that no letters had been sent to "individuals, corporations, boards of trade or chambers of commerce."
